This website is managed by Carbon Red on behalf of the member firms of Moore Stephens S.A. Limited. Moore Stephens International Limited ("MSIL"), and its member firms are legally distinct and separate entities. Nothing shall be construed to place these entities in the relationship of parents, subsidiaries, partners, joint venturers, or agents. No member firm of MSIL has any authority (actual, apparent, implied or otherwise) to obligate or bind MSIL or any other MSIL member firm in any manner whatsoever.

No action should be taken or omitted to be taken in reliance upon information contained in this website. The information contained and accessed on this website is for general guidance and is intended to offer the user general information of interest. The information provided is not intended to replace or serve as substitute for any accounting, tax or other professional advice, consultation or service. Carbon Red does not guarantee or warrant that the website will be uninterrupted, without delay, error free, omission free or free of viruses. We can accept no liability for loss or damage suffered as a result of use of this website or reliance on the information contained herein.

Carbon Red does not warrant or offer any assurances that the website is compatible with any user's computer equipment or network through which access to the website is gained or that the use of the website will not lead to viruses or similar destructive software. Users are responsible for ensuring that their own equipment has appropriate security and virus protection features.

As content of the website is copyrighted, any unauthorised use of any material on the website may violate copyright, trademark and other laws. Materials on this website may not be modified, reproduced or publicly displayed, performed or distributed or used for any public or commercial purposes. Third party links are provided as a convenience to users. Carbon Red & Moore Stephens does not control this and is not responsible for any of these websites or their content. This disclaimer shall be governed by and construed in accordance with South African laws and the courts of South Africa shall have exclusive jurisdiction.

The invalidity or unenforceability in any jurisdiction of any of these terms shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other of these terms. If any term is held to be invalid or unenforceable it shall be deemed to be amended to the minimum extent required to render such term valid or enforceable, such amendment to be determined by Carbon Red & Moore Stephens.

Privacy policy

Moore Stephens is committed to the protection of personal information supplied by clients and prospective clients. Moore Stephens provides further support and services for other independent member firms of Moore Stephens UK Limited ("participant firms"). Personal information submitted to the website may be transferred to other participant firms and other member firms of MSIL ("international firms") to the extent necessary to meet the purpose for which the information was submitted.

Email Disclaimer

The information contained in this email is confidential and may contain proprietary information. It is meant solely for the intended recipient. Access to this email by anyone else is unauthorised. If you are not the intended recipient, any disclosure, copying, distribution or any action taken or omitted in reliance on this, is prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by telephone. No liability or responsibility is accepted if information or data is, for whatever reason, corrupted or does not reach its intended recipient. No warranty is given that this email is free of viruses. Moore Stephens reserves the right to monitor, intercept and block emails addressed to its users or take any other action in accordance with its email use policy.

Collection of information

Moore Stephens does not require registration for access to the website. Moore Stephens will only collect and use personal data voluntarily and openly provided to this website. Users are able to browse the website without disclosing any personal information. A user of this website may choose to provide Moore Stephens with limited personal data as required in order to register for certain services. Once registered, the information will only be used for the specified purpose(s). At the present time IP addresses of authorised users are not logged for either administrative or other purposes. The IP address indicates the location of the authorised users' computer on the Internet. If it is decided to log IP addresses in the future, the information so obtained may be aggregated to provide statistical information about the users of the website. However no individual user will be identifiable from such information and IP addresses will not be used to track the access to the website.

It will normally be clear when personal information is being collected. The information required is the minimum necessary to enable Moore Stephens to deal with the services requested, but additional information may be requested in order for Moore Stephens to provide the most appropriate response. If such additional information is requested it is highlighted and its provision is voluntary. Sensitive personal data includes gender, race or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or other beliefs, trade union membership, physical or mental health, sexual life or criminal records.

We do not solicit sensitive personal data through the website except where legally required to do so, e.g. for the purposes of recruitment. At the present time the standard technology known as "cookies" is not used on the website. Cookies are small text files placed on the authorised user's hard drive that allow the website to store tokens of information in connection with use of the website by allocation of an identifier to an authorised user while the website is in use. Use of cookies would enable Carbon Red to analyze the operation of the website, thus permitting continuous improvement of the service that it provides, but cannot retrieve any other data from the hard drive of the authorised user's computer or capture the authorised user's e-mail address. In any event it is not intended to link personal data to information that may be contained in a cookie to determine or track the identity of any user of the website.

Use of information

Information is used only for the specific purpose for which it was provided except where there has been an explicit selection to receive other information from Moore Stephens. Personal information may be deleted from the website at any time. Requests for copies or deletion of information may be made by e-mailing webmaster@ctn.moorestephens.co.za at any time.

Provision of information to third parties

Moore Stephens will only provide personal information to third parties in the following circumstances:

- where the transfer is necessary to fulfil the requirements of the operation for which the information was provided, and the third party is a participant firm or an international firm;
- in order to fulfil a request which involves other participant firms or international firms;
- to assist Moore Stephens professional advisors regarding matters referred to them concerning the operation of the website;
- where requested explicitly by an authorised user of the website; or
- as required by a court order or any other legal or regulatory requirement.

Carbon Red does not collect or compile personal data or information obtained by the website for dissemination or sale to outside parties, no participant firms or international firms for the purposes of marketing or mailing by or on behalf of third parties. Carbon Red does not undertake marketing activities for third parties, other than participant firms or international firms.

Retention of information

Information collected from authorised users of the website will only be kept in order to provide the required services. Once the service has been completed all information will be destroyed in accordance with Carbon Red data retention policies. Where the information has been collected in connection with an expression of interest in working for Moore Stephens, a participant firm or an international firm, it is agreed that Moore Stephens may use, hold and destroy personal data supplied in connection with the initial expression of interest in accordance with Moore Stephens standard recruitment procedures:

- details may be retained for up to the next twelve months for the purpose of notification of suitable vacancies that might arise; and
- details may be used for the purpose of research and analysis designed to improve recruitment and human resources policies and practices. Where the will be retained for a period of time reasonable in the context of the nature of the request. If these conditions are not acceptable the website should not be further used.

Security of information

Moore Stephens has implemented accepted standards of technical measures and security policies that are aimed at protecting the personal data it has under its control from:

- unauthorised access
- improper use or disclosure
- unauthorised modification - unlawful destruction or accidental loss

All Moore Stephens personnel are required to keep personal information confidential and only authorised persons have access to such information.

Third party websites

Carbon Red & Moore Stephens are not responsible for the privacy policies of third party websites to which links are provided (including websites of participant firms or international firms). The privacy policies on these websites should be checked before providing any personal information to these websites.
